August 30, 1942
Woodside Hotel
2424 Seventh Avenue
New York, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. Manley:

Stopped off in Newark today, but discovered that you were not at home. Continued to New York. Could not get in touch with your publicity man, or Niss at the Brooklyn Eagle. Reached Wibecan by phone and will see him tonight if I do not reach Brooklyn too late.

Wibecan says he has a mailing list of about 2000, and is waiting for you to supply the typewritten letters. On that plan, I suggest that the letters be scheduled for delivery Thursday morning.

I saw several cards on Seventh Avenue.

If I do not see Mr. Miller tonight, will surely see him tomorrow (Monday). The same about Brown of Brooklyn Lodge 32. Wired Niss at the Eagle for appointment.

Suggest that you assemble Grays-Eagles games played this year, with runs, hits, errors, batteries and highlights to be used in Saturday and Sunday newspapers. This will give an idea of what kind of a game to expect.

Intend to leave for Brooklyn about noon Monday and get back here not later than midnight. Please arrange over